KISSING A NIGGER BABY.

BY A PHYSICIAN.

Now, you want me to tell you a joke. Well, I will, but not just so much of one either, unless you can guess the party concerned. Maybe some of the crowd will know. The gentleman and I were great friends, and a very estimable man he was and very closely connected with our present distinguished ——— ———. While boarding with him, and also in professional attendance on his wife, he was engaged by the Trustee of the ——— heirs to put into blast and manage ——— Furnace in ——— County; but owing to the situation of things at home, it was not desirable for him to remain away for any extended time, and he was compelled, in order to avoid being absent at night, to ride from 26 to 30 miles daily during the short days. Like a good affectionate husband (and certainly he was one,) he was in the habit of kissing every member of the family, from the wife down, before starting and on his return. The interesting event having transpired at last—a handsome boy baby being the present, and he the first of the kind ever vouchsafed the family,—it being now no longer necessary for him to take those fatiguing rides and his business pressing him, after the preliminary of kissing, &c., he started to be absent till Saturday evening. On the morning of the day of his expected return, it being necessary for some house-cleaning to be done, a colored woman in the neighborhood was engaged, she bringing with her a young "nig" of 14 or 15 months, having nobody to leave him in charge of at home. During the afternoon, Mrs.———' breasts having become painfully engorged, and her own baby being to young to give the desired relief, "Mr. Nig." was called into requisition, receiving a bountiful meal for his pains. Whilst in full operation, the husband, unexpectedly anticipating the time of his return several hours, (the poor fellow probably could not contain himself any longer, but hastened home to feast his eyes and kiss that boy once more) bounded into the room, occupied then by Maj. ———and his wife, the children and the servant girl, his fiast pitch to kiss his wife and then the baby. To his surprise, the baby ceased operation and turned to look at him inquiringly. "Why, Ma! Johnny looks up." Oh, Ma! screamed one of the little ones, "Pa. kissed the Nigger baby!" "D-d- (the gentleman. when confused, or excited, an impediment in speech) dear oh! the Nigger Baby! I have a notion to knock his brains out. Ell-Ell-en, here's f-f-five dollars to buy a pair of boots. D-d-don't tell the Doctor!"

For the Gazette.

A GOOD JOKE.

When I 'tended store in Syracuse, the old man comes 'round one day, and says he: "Boys, the one that sells most 'twixt this and Christmas, gets a vest pattern for a present." Maybe we didn't work for that vest pattern! I tell you there were some tall stories told in praise of goods just about that time; but the tallest talker, and the one that had the most "cheek" of any of us, was a certain Jonah Squires, who roomed with me. He could talk a dollar out of a man's pocket when he intended only to spend a sixpence; and the women, "Lord, bless us!" they just handed their pocket books to him and let him lay out for them just whatever he liked. One night Jonah woke me up with: "By Jo, old fellow, if you think that that 'ere has got any cotton in it I'll bring down the sheep it was cut from and make him swear to his own wool! 'Twon't wear out either; wore a pair of pants of that stuff for five years and they are as good yet as new. Take that at 30 cents and I'll say you don't owe me anything. Eh! too dear? well, call it 28 cts. Shall I tear it? All right! it's a bargain." I could feel Jonah's hands playing about the bed cover for an instant, then, rip! tear! went something or another, and I hid my head under the blankets perfectly convulsed with laughter, and certain he had torn the sheet from top to bottom. When I woke next morning, alas! the unkindest cut of all, my shirt was split from tail to collar.

BREAK UP HELL ITSELF.—An old preacher in Western New York, who was being persuaded by some of his churchmen, during the political excitement in that State, last fall, to join the Radical party, said:

"No, my brethren, I can't join that party, because all the Abolitonists in the country are in it; and Abolitionism, my brethren, has done a wonderful sight of harm among the people. It has hurt many shepherds and scattered many flocks. It got into the Methodist Church and broke that up. It got in among the Presbyterians and split them in two; broke the old Union to pieces. And, my brethren, I don't know of anything it is good for but to break down and break up. And if you have any enmity against the Old Boy, I advise you to send Abolitionism into his dominions, and it will break hell itself up in less than six weeks."

IT is a curiosity to receive a letter from a lady which has not a P. S. attached to it.

SPEECH OF HON. GEO. H PENDLETON.

We subjoin a few extracts from an admirable speech lately delivered by the Hon. George H. Pendleton, at Urbana, Ohio, and commend them to the attention of the public:

The old political system passed away in 1861, and another was adopted. Its little finger is heavier than the whole body of that which it superseded. No longer do we ask have we a government. Its Argus eyes seek everywhere the accumulations of labor and capital, and its Briarean arms are ever grasping all those eyes can see. Its vast military and naval establishments have risen with portentous mien and overshadow the civil administrations in nearly one-half the country. Beneath the blows of their iron sway, popular government, resting on the consent of the people, has there completely fallen. Its vital energy is apparent wherever we see strife and contention, and violent passions and antogonisms of race, and section, and States. Its genius and humanity are conspicuous wherever healing wounds are made to gape afresh, and to receive a new infusion of gall and bitterness. There is no doubt that we have a government—a strong one—strong in the number of men whom it can conscript—strong in the treasure it can raise by taxation—strong in its power to invade the rights of the States and the liberties of the citizens—strong in its capacity to override the Constitution—strong as Rome was strong, both east and west, under the Emperors—strong as France was strong under the Reign of Terror and the Guillotine—but weak as they were weak when the Goths and Vandals avenged on the seven-hilled city the wrongs of the Germans, or when the blood of the murdered Danton choked the despairing Robespierre.

No government can be really strong which does not appeal both to the interest and affections of the people, which does not attach by the beneficence of its acts as well as by its dependence on their will.

The equality of the States was the basis of the former Republic. Is it maintained?

The answer comes to us from the Reconstruction bill, which puts ten States under martial law, and subjects them to the will of a military officer.

The strict confinement of the Federal Government to international and inter-State affairs was an element of the former Republic. Is it enforced?

The answer comes to us from the Civil Rights bill, which intrudes Federal authority upon the States and utterly overrides the most sacred [illegible] guarantees [illegible] branches of the government, the distribution of power, the separation of constituencies from which it flows, were indispensable features of the former Republic.

Their doom was written in the Tenure of Office bill, which deprives the Peesident of the power of removing even members of his Cabinet, and thus subjects the Executive to the control of the Legislature. Their doom was written in the attack on the Supreme Court because of its decision in relation to military commissions. All power now centres in a single hand, and is conferred by a consolidated majority.

Reverence for the Constitution marked the era of the former Republic and warmed the hearts of all its children.

Now who so poor as to entertain this sentiment? It was rolled up and packed away by Mr. Lincoln; and kept thus dishonored it has fallen into contempt, and to urge its authority serves only to provoke a sneer or to call out a joke. It forms no barrier to the projects of party rage or party desire. Its provisions are entirely disregarded or immediately altered to justify the enactment proposed, or to command the attainment of the end. The highest respect shown to its remains is the proposition to amend them The strife of parties, which was once under the Constitution, is now over and above it.

Powers granted to the Federal Government! Is it not true that every power which is desired to be exercised is found to be granted, and that more would be found if necessary?

Once we believed a fundamental law, guiding legislation and containing the muniments of personal liberty—so sacred that under no circumstances could it be infringed, or even amended, except in the method prescribed—to be essential to free government. Now we have willingly dispensed with it, and committed unlimited power to a temporary majority, and this we call flippantly, the will of the nation.

Tell me, does one single feature of the former Republic remain?

We had a plain and simple and economical government. We have a magnificent, complex, obtrusive, extravagant government. We had an army of 15,000 men; we have an army of 100,000. We had light taxes; we have enormous burthens. We had gol! and silver as legal tender; we have a depreciated Government paper currency. We had trial by jury and personal liberty; we have military commissions made valid by law, and arbitrary arrests justified.

We had a government whose exactions of money or duty were so light that we scarcely felt its existence. We have a government whose strength glitters in the light of the burnished bayonet, and is reflected in the resplendent lustre of the sword.

We had harmony and fraternal concord, and due respect for States and people and opinions and habits. We have a bitter sectional strife, subjugated people, overthrown States, and an animosity of party warfare never before known.

We had freedom of thought. We have an intolerance which strikes down independence of opinion and proscribes political differences as a crime, and establishes a searching scrutiny into the hearts and consciences of the community.

We heard in our bitterest struggles the voice of reason; now that voice is drowned in the clangor of the trumpet which marshalls prejudice and rage and hate to intensify the party strife.

We had a peaceful confederation. Now, while national unity is inculcated as the highest duty, the perpetuation of geographical divisions and national hatred is rewarded with the highest praise.

Congress, which was the theatre of intellectual debate, is now the registry of the decrees of a party caucus, and hesitation to record them is treason to the reigning power, and involves loss of personal preferment, even of political life.

We have broken down the barriers which hemmed in that vast array of powers—closely akin to mere brute force—which we believed the government, and even society, could not, in any event, justly exercise, and have given them as the plaything of every passion. We had a republic; we have an empire.

It is said that learned naturalists have pushed their researches so far, that from the inspection of a single bone they can determine the species of the animal, and reproduce his form even though it be that of the giant mastodon. No philosopher examining the United States of 1867 could possibly reproduce, without the aid of history, the former Republic of 1860. The change has been of the most radical character. It is the change which converted the Rome of Cato into the Rome of Cæsar; and no less than that is it a change wrought by the power of the sword.

Nor do I wonder at it. In the first Congress of the war Mr. Lincoln justified his suspension of the habeas corpus, on the ground that he had the right to infract one provision of the Constitution in order that he might be able to compel others to obey the residue. He ridiculed his constitutional power to issue his proclamation of emancipation, yet in a week's time he issued it. He asserted, in his letter to Mr. Greeley, that he had done and would cotinue to do so much and no more than he deemed necessary to [illegible] control of the government. They became revolutionists. They wrought these changes I have described. They are working on still greater changes. They seized with avidity the sword. The cessation of war will not give them rest. They will go on from one point to another—from the reconstruction of 1865, which met the approval of Congress and the President, to the constitutional amendment—from the constitutional amendment to the reconstruction of 1867—from that to the confiscation of Thaddeus Stevens—from that to whatever worse the frenzy of the times may prompt, till the reaction shall come; and the people, sated with experiment, wearied with uncertainty, shall drive them from power, even though it be through blood. No success will satisfy them—no attainment will give them repose. The measures struggled for today as all they desire, attained to-morrow, are instantly forgotten in some new demand. Neither, national unity nor the suppression of the rebellion, nor the maintenance of the Union, nor the abolition of slavery, nor negro suffrage, nor equality of political and social rights, nor the exclusion of white men from the ballot, nor confiscation, nor corruption of blood, will for one instant exhaust their restless activity.

For it is a law which knows no exception, that the leaders of revolution are constantly advancing before the fires which they themselves have lighted. The moment they pause they are enveloped in the flames.

And this same orator told us that in addition to the loss of the former Republic, we would incur a debt which would add two hours each day to the labor of every working man in the country, and that the gain should be considered ample compensation for this toil. What was the gain? The abolition of negro slavery at the South. For this consummation they were to perform and to suffer all things; for this the Constitution was to be subverted, the Bible was to be rewritten, a new God was to be enthroned!

Slavery has perished; all history tells us that it can not be re-established in these ages in this country. It is our bounden duty to recognize this great social change; to ameliorate whatever may be incident to it, and, so far as possible, to prepare the freedmen for the discharge of the new duties which are being devolved upon them. But, gentlemen, if this revolution is to go on, and the present system of government is to be continued, then has our liberty perished with it; and we have realized the prediction of a profound thinker and a brilliant writer, who, twenty years ago, predicted that it would be written over the grave of our political institutions: "Here lies a people, who, in order to give freedom to three millions of Africans, destroyed their own liberty."

* * * * * * *

And I have dwelt on these things so long only that I might ask you whether we have indeed lost the former Republic forever. Did the apostle of Radicalism read the portents aright?

I can not certainly answer. All history is written for our instruction. It tells us that liberty lost is with difficulty regained; that constitutional law once dragged to the dust by the passions of man is rarely again raised to govern them in the same generation; that when violence and arbitrary arrests and destruction of the press and disregard of law, enacted by the ignorance or prejudice or passion of the people, once destroy the pure appreciation of the value and safe-guards of liberty, it is difficult to restore it, even as it is difficult to restore the face of beauty when it is scarred, or to revive the lustrous purity of innocence when it is defiled.

Mr. Webster, years ago, had occasion to discuss the same subject, and with that pomp and splendor of diction which marked all his political addresses, he said:

"Other misfortunes may be borne, or their effects overcome. If war should sweep our commerce from the ocean, another generation may renew it; if it exhaust our treasury, future industry may replenish it; if it desolate and lay waste our fields, still, under a new cultivation, they will grow green again, and ripen to future harvests. It were but a trifle, even, if the walls of yonder capitol were to crumble, if its lofty pillars should fall, and its gorgeous decorations be covered by the dust of the valley.

"All these might be rebuilt. But who shall reconstruct the fabric of demolished government? Who shall rear again the well proportioned columns of constitutional liberty? Who shall frame together the skilful architecture which unites national sovereignty with State Rights, individual security and public prosperity? Now if these columns shall fall they will be reared not again. Like the Coliseum and the Parthenon, they will be destined to a melancholy, mournful immortality. Bitterer tears, however, will flow over them than were ever shed on the monuments of the Roman or Grecian Art, for they will be the remnants of a more glorious edifice than Greece or Rome ever saw—the edifice of constitutional American liberty."

Gentlemen, I feel the force of these words. I know that others feel them more deeply perhaps than I. I see among many good men a tendency to despair. I see among my own friends—those who agree with me generally on public affairs—a disposition to give up all for lost. They have lost hope; they have lost courage; their despondency counsels inaction. The newspapers, the public speeches, but above all the private conversations, indicate this feeling. Gentlemen, I do not sympathize with it. I have high hopes for the future. I see the dangers which are before us. I see a long and weary way. I see a long and exhausting not conceal for myself that it may be a struggle of the sword. Many of us may go down with harness on in the midst of the fight, but hope fills my heart, and the magnitude of the prize nerves my arm. * * * *

The reaction will surely come. All history, all philosophy declare it. It has come to all other nations; it will come to us. It has come, sometimes clothed in the white robe of peace, sometimes with its garments dyed in blood. In every country there has been a party of power, and a party against it. In every country there have been men who loved liberty as they loved virtue, and honor, and truth, men who would avenge its wrongs, even as they would protect the virtue of the wife of their bosom, or the honor of the mother who bore them. Liberty inspires the soul. Its sacred fires forever burn amid its apostles and defenders. When peaceful means are exhausted, it draws the sword. Let its enemies, then, beware, whether they sit single solitude on a throne, or crowd in the market-places. So will it be with us.

Our people desire to be wise and virtuous. Our country is young and rich and strong. Experience will not teach its painful lessons in vain. The splended recollections of the past have not entirely passed away. Its vestiges are not all buried in the ruin of the present. The hopes of the future are bright in the reflection of its expiring glories. They will accelerate the counter revolution. Let us diligently prepare the way. It is wisdom to accept accomplished facts. It is folly to abandon correct principles in the moment of their adversity. Principles are eternal—institutions of the government are but instrumentalities—facts vary as the days succeed each other, seem to change at the bidding of the fickle moon. Let us hold fast to principles, let us modify institutions, let us recognize the changing phases of facts. It is the office of wise men to adopt just principles of government by the aid of fit institutions to every condition of affairs. Liberty is the great good. Confederation is to be sought only because it has aided to maintain it. Centralization is to be avoided only because it has always destroyed it. But at last liberty is the life, the soul, and government is the form, the body through which it is developed.

Let us, then, gentlemen, look at the past only that we may select what is good and avoid what is evil, that we may from its experience catch the inspirations of a wise progress, that we may so school our hearts with lessons of moderation and truth that patriotism and wisdom may guide the courses of the inevitable reaction and lead us back from the perils of centralized imperialism, to the safety of a confederation, founded, supported and restrained by the checks and balances of a wise Constitution. Thus, if we cannot restore the former Republic, we can at least regain the blessings of liberty regulated by law, and a law enacted and maintained by the spirit of virtuous liberty.

THANKS.—We are indebted to Hon. W. H. Koontz, M. C., for numerous valuable public documents; also to Hon. A. L. Russell, Adjutant General, for a copy of his Report for the year 1866.

WHAT does the Inquirer think of Horace Greely, by this time? Horace Greely, the man who bailed Jeff. Davis out of prison!

UNDER whose administration occurred the first and heaviest deficits in the Poor House account? Under that of Gideon D. Trout and George D. Shuck, Republican Poor Directors.

Who discovered and rectified those deficits? The present Democratic board of Poor Directors and the present Democratic Steward.

THE PHARISEES HOWL.

The New York Tribune, whose chief editor, Horace Greely, is one of the sureties for Jefferson Davis, says, the "Pharisees are howling" over the release of the ex-president of the ex-Confederacy. That is a good name for your partizans, Mr. Greely! Pharisees! Hit them again!

LONGSTREET A RADICAL.

The telegraph announces that the Rebel General James Longstreet was one of the Vice Presidents of the Radical meeting lately addressed in New Orleans, by Senator Wilson. Disunionists will flock together. A pretty mixture the "Republican" party is getting to be—Abolitionists, Rebels and Niggers!

It has taken the combined wisdom of the Old Democratic Party and the Copperhead Party twelve or fifteen years to discover a small deficit in the Poor House account, which, it is alleged, should have occurred under the administration of Messrs. Shuck and Trout, is it not about time that the whole party were kicked out "without the benefit of the clergy," and somebody placed there who can keep the accounts correctly?—Inquirer.

As the "combined wisdom" of the Old Whig Party, the Know Nothings, People's Party, Republicans, Abolitionists, and Radical party, during "twelve or fifteen years," was not sufficient to discover that "small deficit," ought any such dunderheads be permitted to have anything to do with "keeping the accounts?" That's the question!

THERE are black sheep in every flock, but there are so few of them in the Democratic party, that when one is found there is a general yelp of astonishment from the Abolitionists who are quite accustomed to the society of such animals. The absquatulation of the late District Attorney of this county, is an instance. The conduct of that official deserves the severest reprobation, but the less such creatures as Geo. Bergner say about matters of this kind the better it will be for their own character. The editors of the Bedford Inquirer will also have enough to do if they keep their own door-way clean. Little speculations in bounties, substitutes, &c., have been known to help some Abolition newspaper establishments amazingly. Let such fellows skin their own skunks.

A PROPOSITION.

The Bedford Inquirer, as well as a large number of other Radical papers in this State, have denounced the last Legislature as the most corrupt body that ever assembled on the face of the earth. The Inquirer has said, "Another such Legislature will sink us!" At the same time, as a partial set-off to the corruption of its own partizans, that paper sets up a howl about the Poor House accounts. Now, if the Inquirer and its party will agree to run but one candidate for the Legislature in this district, so that one Democrat may be elected, we will agree that no candidate for Poor Director shall be run by the Democrats of this county. A change in the Legislature is certainly needed, by the Inquirer's own admission. What say you, oh! ye virtuous fellows around the corner? Is it a bargain?

A QUESTION.

The Inquirer, of last week, has an article reflecting upon the Southern whites for trying to control the Negro vote. Of course, in the opinion of the Inquirer, nobody in the South has any right to ask a negro to vote for him except some Yankee spoon-thief acting in the capacity of "Agent of the Freedmen's Bureau." Well, perhaps, negroes ought to vote for such fellows, for nobody else will. In connection with this subject, will the Inquirer please inform us whether its party is in favor of giving the negroes the same rights in Pennsylvania which it has forced upon them in the South? Is the Radical party in favor of Negro Suffrage in Pennsylvania?

"Since there is no difference of opinion between the Gazette and the INQUIRER in regard to Mr. Blymyer's responsibility for the deficit which was discovered in the Poor House accounts, will the Gazette be kind enough to state who is responsible for it? Mr. Blymyer, it is admitted on all hands, is NOT responsible. Now come up squarely and tell us WHO IS. The people want to know."

"It is a well known fact that the County Auditors settle the accounts between the county and the Treasurer of the Poor House Fund, and NOT THE DIRECTORS. We believe this to be all wrong, nevertheless, it is the case and those gentlemen—Shuck and Trout—knew as little abont the settlement of the Poor House Accounts as any other individual who read the published statement."

The above articles appeared, separately, as editorials in the last Inquirer. The reader will observe the complete backing-down of that paper so far as Mr. Blymyer and the Poor Directors are concerned. It declares that "it is admitted on all hands that Mr. Blymyer is NOT responsible, and, in the second article, it states that the Poor Directors have nothing to do with the settlement of the Poor House Accounts. Let this be borne in mind. The Inquirer entirely exculpates the Poor Directors as well as Mr. Blymyer. But it wants to know who is responsible. The Inquirer may guess its own conundrums. We will propound one in return. Is any body responsible for any deficiency when the county loses nothing?

LINCOLN ON NEGRO SUFFRAGE.

The sayings of that sainted personage whose apotheosis is claimed by all who believe that a man who dies in a theatre, goes straight to heaven, ought to have some weight with those who believed in him while living and affect to worship him now that he is dead. Of course the lunatics who are bent on going the nearest road to the devil, will their darling "Old Abe." Let them go. The sooner they get to their journey's end, the better for the country. But there are, (at least there ought to be) some few scattered admirers of Abraham Lincoln, who may be induced to hear what he had to say upon the momentous question which is now being pushed upon the consideration of the people. To such we affectionately commend the following, which is an extract from a speech delivered by Mr. Lincoln in a debate with Mr. Douglas, at Charleston, Ill., September 18, 1858. Mr Lincoln said:

"While I was in the hotel to-day, an elderly gentleman called upon me to know if I was really in favor of producing a perfect equality between the negroes and the white people. I will say, then, that I am not, nor ever have been in favor of making voters or jurors of negroes, nor of qualifying them to hold office, nor to intermarry with white people, and I will say in addition to this, that there is a physical difference between the black and white races, which I believe will forever prohibit the two races from ever living on terms of social and political equality. And, inasmuch as they cannot so live, while they do remain together there must be the position of superior and inferior, and I, as much as any other man, am in favor of having the superior position assigned to the white race."

Mark well that Mr. Lincoln said "there is a physical difference between the black and white races which I believe will forever prohibit the two races from ever living on terms of social and political equality." Ah! how these modern advocates of "political and social equality without respect to color or race," give the lie to the apostle whose teachings they profess to follow! It is enough to make the bones of the "martyr President" rattle in their coffin, such perversion of his doctrines, such flat contradiction of his political opinions. Shame, shame upon you, modern "Republicans."

MORE RADICAL DENUNCIATION OF THE LATE LEGISLATURE!

The appended expose of the extravagance of the late Radical Legislature, is taken from the Lancaster Examiner, the home organ of Thaddeus Stevens. It will be seen that the Examiner refers to an official copy of the appropriation bills passed by the last Legislature, as authority for its figures. It appears that in three years, the expenses of the Legislature alone, have increased $115,000! That is it cost $115,000 more to run the Legislature of 1867 than that of 1864. Did Messrs. Weller and Richards, of this district, vote against this appropriation bill? Will some of their friends please inform the public whether they, too, did not acquiesce in this scheme of wholesale plunder? We ask for information, as we did not get to see a single copy of the Legislative Record for the last session, and, therefore, cannot, at present, speak by the book. For this time let the testimony of the Lancaster Examiner, suffice, for it convicts the Radicals of the last Legislature, as a body, of the most unparallelled and corrupt extravagance.

READ!

From the Lancaster Examnier, Rad.

We are indebted to the Hon. I. B. Gara, Deputy Secretary of the Commonwealth, for an official copy of the acts of the last Legislature, making the ordinary appropriations for the expenses of the State government and other general and specific appropriations. Instead of being "ordinary" they had better be designated "extraordinary" appropriations. "Ordinary," is certainly a misapplied word in this bill. It is a most alarming document for the tax-payers of the State to contemplate. For reckless and profligate extravagance it has never been equalled in the history of this Commonwealth. For the last few years the appropriation bills have been gradually growing in magnitude. When this last one had gone through the first process of incubation by both houses, nearly a million dollars more had been "appropriated" than the whole revenues of the State amounted to. But the vigilant State Treasurer gave these virtuous Solons notice that somebody would have to go unpaid, if a bill so profligate in appropriations was allowed to become a law, which it did not. As it passed, however, it is worse than any that had preceded it.

Since 1865 there has been an increase in salaries in the appropriation bills, and offices alone, involving annually an expenditure of not less than from fifty to a hundred thousand dollars. Every year some trifle—a few hundred dollars, or a thousand, is added to somebody's salary, or some "friend" of somebody is slipped into a snug place with nothing to do but draw his salary.

We do not intend to compare all the different items of this bill with other appropriation bills, to show how several hundred thousand dollars are recklessly appropriated and how this extravagance has grown in a few years. But we will confine our comparison for the present to two items which we think will be sufficient to convince our readers that this disposition to vote away the hard earned dollars of the tax payers has gone far enough, and that they had better be looking after those who are sent to legislate for them a little more in the future than they have in the past. We will compare the appropriations of 1867 with those of 1864.

By section 27 of the appropriation bill of 1864 was appropriated for the payment of the expenses of the Legislature, including pay and mileage of members, clerks, &c., $150,000.

By section 24 of the bill of 1867 was appropriated for the payment of the expenses of the Legislature, including pay and mileage of members, clerks, &c., $265,000; showing an increase in three years of the small sum of one hundred and fifteen thousand dollars.

Now let us look at another item. In 1864 by section 23 of the appropriation bill, was appropriated for law judges, not including Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, $73,000.

By the act of 1867, section 20, for the same judges is appropriated $115,000! alone.

The two items foot up the round sum of ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTY-SEVEN THOUSAND DOLLARS. We merely give these two items because they serve our purpose to show at what a fearful rate reckless and faithless men can squander the taxes of the people, and by their unnecessary and uncalled for liberality to themselves and others, divert the money of the people from its legitimate and proper use, the payment of the State debt. Almost every section of this bill shows the same liberality towards those who draw their sustenance from the State Treasury. It is a question which the people ought to be looking after. The remedy rests with them in the selection of representatives. If men are elected who are either incompetent, or venal and corrupt, profligate with their own or other people's money, drunkards or gamblers, it cannot be expected that they will prove either prudent or economical legislators.

The cry now is, that corruption and extravagance is not alone to be found at Harrisburg; but at the capitols of other States, Albany, Trenton, &c., the same evil is sapping the foundations of the law making powers.

WIDE AWAKE.—Our excellent Democratic neighbors of Bedford County are awake and putting on their armor for the big victory that surely will be next fall. The energetic Chairman of their County Committee, J. W. Dickerson, Esq., has issued a call for the Annual Convention of the party to meet in Bedford on the 18th of June. A number of announcements for office (always a sign of life in a party) appear in the Gazette; and the Gazette itself begins to quicken its usual adroit keen thrusts at the enemy, betokening in every line its self-satisfied appreciation of the fact, that a big fight is on hands and that we are 'going in to win.' To all of which responds Fulton County Amen.—Fulton Democrat.

MILITARY DESPOTISM is costly.—Like war itself it eats into the resources of the people. It is a bad animal to be yoked up with civil government, under a common flag. Already we hear of its evil effects in Virginia, and other States. The registry lists are made out by military commanders—a mockery upon Republican government; and "seven hundred officers" are required as clerks and asistants, in Virginia alone, to make out the lists. The law is that white men shall be very generally disfranchised at the South, and negroes enfranchised—so it requires a vast deal of labor to do business.—Richmond is already full of "loyal" office-seekers, who are eager to prey upon the people's money. The wit of man could not devise a precedent more dangerous to Republican institutions than this military despotism, no matter whether its pretext was reconstruction" or oppression.

Elliott; Solitude and Democracy, by Eugene Benson; a sketch of Dejazet, the French Soubrette; A Norse Love Story, by Richard Grant White; The Legend of Amsanctus, by W. L. Alden; Torturing Words by George Wakeman; American Painters, by Russell Sturgis, Jr; Nebule, by the Editor, and other articles; besides fresh instalments of Waiting for the Verdict and Steven Lawrence, Yeoman.

For $4 The Galaxy will be sent for one year, together with a copy each of Archie Lovell, by Mrs. Edwards, and The Claverings, by Anthony Trollope, both books illustrated. Adress W. C. & F. P. CHURCH, No. 39 Park Row, New York.

Peterson's Magazine for June, is an unusually fine number, even for this popular and elegant magazine. It has a beautiful steel engraving, "The Wild Flowers in the Wood;" a splendid mammoth colored fashion plate, with five figures; a colored pattern for a tobacco-pouch; and about fifty wood engravings of dresses, bonnets, collars and cuffs, children's fashions, baby's shoe pattterns in embroidery, smoking cap, &c., &c. The literary contents maintain the high character of "Peterson." That powerful story, "The Long Journey," is finished. Mrs. Ann S. Stephens' fascinating novelet, "Married by Mistake," is continued. A capital article on "The laws of Croquet," is alone worth the price of the number. This is a good time to subscribe, for a new volume begins with July, though back numbers from January may also be had, if subscribers wish to commence with the first of the year. "Peterson's" is the cheapest of all the monthlies. To single subscribers it is but $2.00 a year. For $8 00 five copies are sent, with an extra copy to the person getting up the club. Address C. J. Peterson, 306 Chestnut St., Philada.

THE LADY'S FRIEND, FOR JUNE, 1867.—The June number of this popular Magazine is before us. A charming domestic scene called "Home Treasures," is the subject of the fine Steel Plate in front. The Colored Fashions present a group of brilliant and graceful figures, attired in the latest mode. Among the numerous wood cuts are a handsome bridal dress, traveling and visiting toilettes, new paletots and bonnets, illustrations of Wax Flower Work, &c. The literary matter is choice. The Music, furnished for each number by Lee & Walker, is alone worth the subscription price. A beautiful Steel Engraving, called "One of Life's Happy Hours," will be sent gratis to every single ($2.50) subscriber, and to every person sending a club. Specimen numbers containing the particulars of the premium offers and the reduced prices twenty cents.

Price (with engraving) $2.50 a year; Four copies (with one engraving) $6.00. One copy of Lady's Friend and one of Saturday Evening Post (and one engraving), $4.00. Address Deacon & Peterson, 319 Walnut Street, Philadelphia.

THE OLD GUARD.—Racy, spicy, original, sound as to literature and politics, entertaining as well as instructive, the OLD GUARD, for June, is on our table. Its pages are graced with the writings of such men as W. Gilmore Simms, James W. Wall, John Esten Cooke, C. C. Burr, and Dr. J. H. Van Evrie. Paul H. Hayne, one of the truest of American poets, contributes to the present number, "Chloris," as fine a poem as we have read for many a day. The OLD GUARD is now in the front rank as a literary magazine, and, politically, it is the bravest, most honest and most independent publication in the United States. Address Van Evrie, Horton & Co, 162 Nassau st., New York.

GODEY'S LADY'S BOOK.—We have before us Godey for June. We remark a beautiful steel engraving, entitled "Farm Yard," as fine a thing of the sort as we have lately seen. Next comes Godey's inimitable "double extension colored fashion-plate," and then we come to Marion Harland's excellent story, "For Better, For Worse," and as we turn over the pages, we find interesting articles by Clara Augusta, S. Annie Frost, Caroline Orne and other approved magazine writers. For the ladies, Godey's is justly considered the magazine.

COLLISION ON THE BRANCH.—The Branch engine, which was making an extra trip to Altoona last Thursday, attempted to pass the freight train at Baker's siding, but the track being a single one, it proved a smashing failure—the result being two used up engines and several wrecked cars. Fortunately no person was injured—thanks to the jumping abilities of the engineers, firemen and brakemen, but no thanks to those who sent the freight train out ahead of time.—Hollidaysburg Standard.

PRESERVING FURS.—The following for preserving furs will interest our lady readers about now: One ounce gum camphor, and one ounce powdered shell of red pepper, are macerated in eight ounces of strong alcohol for seven days and then strained. With this tincture the furs and clothes are sprinkled over and rolled up in sheets. This remedy is used in Russia, under the name of "Chinese tincture for moths," and is found very effective.

—It is already understood to be the purpose of Jeff. Davis to set to work writing a book—giving a history of the secession movement, the Southern struggle, and his own adventures from December, 1860, to May, 1867.

KENTUCKY ELECTION.

Democratic Majority in the State 42,000.

LOUISVILLE, May 14.—Returns today indicate the certain election of Adams over Rice in Randall's District by a majority of 800. Young's majority over McKee in the Ninth District is about 1,200. The Democratic majority in the entire State over both the other parties combined is about 42,000, as follows: First District, 8,000; Second District, 4,591; Third, 6,000; Fourth, 5,414; Fifth, 3,582; Sixth, 5,641; Seventh, 6,724; Eighth, 800; Ninth, 1,200.

THE POLITICAL REACTION.—In the last, or thirty-ninth Congress, the Congressional representation in the two States of Connecticut and Kentucky was as follows:

	Dems.	Rads.
Connecticut,		4
Kentucky,	5	4

In the Fortieth, or present Congress, this is the result:

	Dems.	Rads.
Connecticut,	3	1
Kentucky,	9	..

It thus appears that in these States the Democrats have gained seven members, making a change of fourteen against the Radicals. At this rate with a few more States to elect to the present Congress, the state of public feeling is such that we would soon overcome the Radical majority, great as it now is.

A Remarkable Change in the Eighth District of Kentucky.

Adams is beyond all doubt elected in this district over Rice, the Radical candidate. He has eight hundred and thirty-one majority, with Clay, Harlan, Jackson, Letcher, Perry and Wolfe to hear from. Clay, which gave Hobson four hundred and thirty-eight majority, has gone for Adams. Adams' majority in the district will probably be about eight hundred.—Louisville Courier.

This district last year gave over five thousand majority for Hobson. The change in it has been wonderful.

DEMOCRATIC VICTORIES.—At the municipal election in Williamsport, Lycoming county, on the 15th, Dr. W. F. Logan, the Democratic candidate for Mayor, was elected by 87 majority—a gain of 161 votes. Last spring the Radical candidate had 104 majority. This is a most signal triumph, and entitles the Democracy of that little city to unbounded praise.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., May 17.—At the municipal election, held in this city on Wednesday, Hon. J. B. Stark, Democrat, was elected Mayor by two hundred and sixty-eight majority over Colonel E. B. Harvy, Radical, (present Mayor,). Harvey's majority last year was four hundred.

The Democracy Growing Stronger and the Radicals Weaker.

That leading Radical paper, Mac-a-cheek (Ohio) Press, says:

"THE LATE ELECTIONS.—The late disastrous result in Connecticut should be taken as a lesson by the Union organization. We doubt, however, whether we will have either wisdom or patience to appreciate what is taught [illegible] ruination only at a time when lamentations come too late.

"The Democracy grows stronger and we weaker, as the work goes on.—Weary of class legislation, that is only another name for legalized robbery, weary of the platitudes and owls, weary, O! so weary of thieves, knaves and cowards, our forces fall out and our army gets more and more demoralized.

"This is the Connecticut lesson. Will we learn? Is it possible for us to waken up from our after dinner stupidity, shake off the asses, owls and thieves and summon the people to real work over real issues? Let us hope so."

A YOUNG LADY returning to her country home, after a sojourn of a few months in the city, was hardly recognized by her friends. In place of a coarse, rustic, flushed face, she had a soft ruby complexion of almost marble smoothness, and instead of twenty three she really appeared but eighteen. Upon inquiry as to the cause of so great a change, she plainly told them that she used the CIRCASSIAN BALM, and considered it an invaluable acquisition to any Lady's toilet. By its use any Lady or Gentleman can improve their personal appearance an hundred fold. It is simple in its combination, as Nature herself is simple, yet unsurpassed in its efficacy in drawing impurities from, also healing, cleansing and beautifying the skin and complexion. By its direct action on the cuticle it draws from it all its impurities, kindly healing the same, and leaving the surface as Nature intended it should be, clear, soft, smooth and beautiful. May 9, 1867.

JUBILEE WEEK.—We are pleased to hear that the Rev. Edwin M. Long, formerly in charge of the Union Tabernacle of Philadelphia, and widely known as the 'Children's Preacher,' intends holding one of his grand Jubilees in the M. E. Church, of this place, commencing Wednesday evening, May 29. We are told the Church is to be beautifully decorated, which, with Mr. Long's splendid panoramic paintings, brilliant illustrated lecture, and the songs of the children, will make a jubilee indeed that will gladden the hearts of all who may attend. Among the many testimonials we clip the following from the Pittsburg Evening Gazette of Dec. 8:

Rev. E. M. Long, the Children's Preacher, has been delivering a course of sermons on the plan of salvation—illustrating the text by a series of large and beautiful oil paintings, which were painted for that purpose. By this means the attention of the young is secured, and many soul-saving truths simplified and impressed on the mind. These services have been held in the following churches:—Rev. Messrs. Swift's, Bell's, McLean's, and the Central Presbyterian, (late Dr. Plumer's,) Alleghany and Rev. Drs. Howard's and Paxton's in Pittsburg. Much interest has been awakened among the young so that the largest churches have been unable to hold them, and although some evenings the aisles and spaces about the pulpit have been full by persons standing, yet the church doors had to be locked to prevent any more from entering and service to begin before the appointed time. On one evening ninety-four letters and notes were handed Mr. Long, written by children.

INFORMATION WANTED.—Jackson Cumberland, (colored) desires information of the whereabouts of his family, a wife named Jenny and two children, one a boy, named Albert, age about 11 years, the other a girl, named Martha, age about 6 years. The father was in the Union army as hostler at the time of Milroy's retreat, at which time the mother and two children fled to Pennsylvania, since which time he has not been able to learn their whereabouts.

Newspapers throughout this state and Maryland will please copy, and any information of their whereabouts can be directed to Jackson Cumberland at McConnellsbnrg, Fulton County, Pa., care of E. Brosius.—Fulton Republican.

NEW GOODS.—G. R. & W. Oster, at the old stand, opposite the "Rising Sun" corner, have just received a large lot of new goods. This firm is noted for the excellence of its goods and the cheapness of its prices.

SCHOOL ACCOUNTS.—There appears to be a general negligence on the part of School Directors to publish the account of the receipts and expenditures of their respective districts as required by the Act of Assembly. The State Superintendent of Common Schools states that this section of the law is as obligatory upon the Board of Directors as is the section requiring them to keep open the schools, and a neglect to perform this duty according to the law will subject Directors to removal by the courts, the same as the neglect of any other duty required by law.

PASS HIM ROUND.—A fellow by the name of Wm. H. Florence, agent for the sale of a patent churn, is traveling the country coming the confidence game over printers. He got bills printed at this office, and suddenly skipped out, without paying for them. We warn our brethern of the press to be on their guard for the aforesaid Mr. Florence, and request that they republish this in order that the craft may not be imposed on by him or any other scoundrel who may try a similar dodge.—Greensburg Argus.

BURNED.—We are pained to learn that the house of Enos Corle, in Union township, with all its contents, was burned to ashes, on the evening of the 11th inst., leaving him altogether dependent upon the charity of a Christian community. Loss about two thousand dollars.

HAYS IRVINE ESQ.—We call attention to the card of this young Attorney, in this issue. Mr. Irvine served four years in the Federal army, during the late war, and if there is anything in the "friendship for the soldier," which we hear so much about, we think it ought to manifest itself in the shape of fees to our young soldier-lawyer.

CAMP MEETING.—The Methodists will hold a Camp Meeting, two miles south of Bloody Run, to commence Aug. 30th. The grove is beautiful, water abundant, and the ground easy of access.

CIGAR EMPORIUM.—See advertisement of D. W. Crouse, in this week's paper. Dan. has on hand a large lot of cigars of his own manufacture, also chewing tobacco, &c., &c.

HARTLEY & METZGER'S Farmers' Depot is the place to buy all the late improvements in Farm Implements.

MARRIED.

MESSRS. EDITORS OF GAZETTE:—The following notice taken from "The World," N. Y., will doubtless interest the many friends of the young man in this county:

Publications.

The only Democratic Magazine published in the United States.
VOL. V. Again Enlarged! 1867.
THE OLD GUARD,
A MONTHLY MAGAZINE,
DEVOTED TO
Literature, Science and Art, and the Political Principles of 1776 and 1787.
C. CHAUNCEY BURR, EDITOR.
The success of THE OLD GUARD has been as remarkable as it ought to be gratifying to the friends of a true American literature. It has steadily doubled its circulation each year of its publication, and its publishers have found it necessary to annually enlarge it, to meet the full expectations of its patrons, as well as to realize their own ideal of a first-class Family and Literary Magazine, combined with sound political principles.—To still farther carry out this design, The Old Guard for 1867 will be printed on new type, and enlarged sixteen additional pages, making in all nearly One Thousand Pages of reading matter yearly for the low price of three dollars! Arrangements have also been made to secure the very best literary talent of the country. We will commence in the January number a thrilling Romance, written expressly for The Old Guard, entitled,
JOSCELYN; A Tale of the Revolution;
By Wm. Gilmore Simms, Esq., of S. C., the peer of Cooper and Irving, taking the reader back to the birth of the American principle of government, and introducing him to the rebels of 1776. John Estan Cooke, Esq., of Virginia, author of "Surry of Eagle's Nest," &c,, &c., will furnish a series of graphic sketches, entitled "The Battles of Virginia," while our present corps of contributors, with some new ones, will continue to furnish articles, making the Magazine second to none in point of literary attraction and ability.—Politically, The Old Guard will stand in the future as in the past, faithfully guarding the Constitution as it came from the hands of Washington, without acquiescing in any of the subversions, under the title of "amendments." It will be continued upon the grand idea that "all is not lost," while virtue and intelligence remain with any portion of the people.

J. W. BRADLEY'S
CELEBRATED PATENT
DUPLEX ELLIPTIC (OR DOUBLE SPRING)
SKIRT.
The wonderful flexibility and great comfort and pleasure to any lady wearing the Duplex Elliptic Skirt will be experienced particularly in crowded Assemblies, Operas, Carriages, Railroad Cars, Church Pews, Arm Chairs, for Promenade and House Dress, as the Skirt can be folded when in use to occupy a small place as easily and conveniently as a silk or muslin dress, an invaluable quality in crinoline, not found in any single spring Skirt.
A lady having enjoyed the pleasure, comfort, and great convenience of wearing the Duplex Elliptic Steel Spring Skirt for a single day, will never afterwards willingly dispense with their use. For Children, Misses and Young Ladies they are superior to all others.
They will not bend or break like the single spring, but will preserve their perfect and graceful shape when three or four ordinary Skirts will have been thrown aside as useless. The Hoops are covered with double and twisted thread, and the bottom rods are not only double springs, but twice (or double) covered: preventing them from wearing out when dragging down stoops, stairs, &c.
The Duplex Elliptic is a great favorite with all ladies and is universally recommended by the Fashion Magazines as the Standard Skirt of the Fashionable World!
To enjoy the following inestimable advantages in crinoline, viz. superior quality, perfect manufacture, stylish shape and finish, flexibility, durability, comfort and economy, inquire for
J. W. BRADLEY'S DUPLEX ELLIPTIC, or Double Spring Skirt, and be sure you get the genuine article.
Caution.—To guard against imposition, be particular to notice that Skirts offered as "Duplex" have the red ink stamp, viz: "J W. Bradley's Duplex Elliptic Steel Springs," upon the waistband—☞ none others are genuine. Also notice that every Hoop will admit a pin being passed through the centre, thus revealing the two (or double) springs braided together therein, which is the secret of their flexibility and strength, and a combination not to be found in any other Skirt.
For sale in all stores where first class Skirts are sold throughout the United States and elsewhere. Manufactured by the sole owners of the patent,

ASTROLOGY.
The World Astonished
AT THE WONDERFUL REVELATIONS MADE BY THE GREAT ASTROLOGIST, MADAME H. A. PERRIGO.
She reveals secrets no mortal ever knew. She restores to happiness those who, from doleful events, catasrophes, crosses in love, loss of relations and friends, loss of money, &c., have become despondent. She brings together those separated, gives information concerning absent friends or lovers, restores lost or stolen property, tells you the business you are best qualified to pursue and in what you will be most successful, causes speedy marriages and tells you the very day you will marry, gives your name, likeness and characteristics of the person. She reads your very thoughts, and by her almost supernatural powers unveils the dark and hidden mysteries of the future. From the stars we see in the firmament—the malefic stars that overcome or predominate in the configuration—from the aspects and positions of the planets and the fixed stars in the heavens at the time of birth, she deduces the future destiny of man. Fail not to consult the greatest Astrologist on earth. It costs you but a trifle, and you may never again have so favorable an opportunity. Consultation fee, with likeness and all desired information, $1. Parties living at a distance can consult the Madame by mail with equal safety and satisfaction to themselves, as if in person. A full and explicit chart, written out, with all inquiries answered and likeness enclosed, sent by mail on receipt of price above mentioned. The strictest secresy will be maintained, and all correspondence returned or destroyed. References of the highest order furnished those desiring them. Write plainly the day of the month and year in which you were born, enclosing a small lock of hair.

REPARATOR CAPILLI.
Throw away your false frizzes, your switches, your wig—
Destructive of comfort, and not worth a fig;
Come aged, come youthful, come ugly and fair,
And rejoice in your own luxuriant hair.
REPARATOR CAPILLI
For restoring hair upon bald heads (from whatever cause it may have fallen out) and forcing a growth of hair upon the face, it has no equal. It will force the beard to grow upon the smoothest face in from five to eight weeks, or hair upon bald heads in from two to three months. A few ignorant practitioners have asserted that there is nothing that will force or hasten the growth of the hair or beard. Their assertions are false, as thousands of living witnesses (from their own experience) can bear witness. But many will say how are we to distinguish the genuine from the spurious? It certainly is difficult, as nine-tenths of the different preparations advertised for the hair and beard are entirely worthless, and you may have already thrown away large amounts in their purchase. To such we would say, try the Reparator Capilli; it will cost you nothing unless it fully comes up to our representations. If your druggist does not keep it, send us one dollar and we will forward it, postpaid, together with a receipt for the money, which will be returned you on application, provided entire satisfaction is not given. Miscellaneous.

1867.—"THE WORLD."—1867.
The attention of the public is invited to the claims of "The World" as one of the leading public journals of the country. It is the chief organ of the Democratic Party of the United States, and the foremost advocate of the immediate restoration of the Union. Its highest merits consists in its character as an enterprising and trustworthy newspaper.
The next year bids fair to be a more critical one in the history of our free institutions than even any eventful ones that have preceded it. The first requsite for an intelligent judgment of public affairs is a full and authentic account of facts as they transpire. These The World always aims to give with consciencious accuracy, and with equal fullness and fidelity, whether they make for or against its own views of public policy. Prompt activity in spreading before its readers every kind of news in which any part of the public takes an interest, is the first duty of a newspaper, and the facilities of The World for discharging this obligation are unsurpassed by those of any journal in the United States. Whatever else it may fail in, it certainly will not fail to furnish the news, nor to supply it with such promptitude, spirit, freshness, abundance, variety, accuracy and candor, that no class of readers can miss anything of interest which they wish to find. The World will publish documents and arguments prepared by political foes just as freely as those prepared by political friends; making its own comments on them, of course, but never suppressing or garbling them because they are calculated to damage its own party. Adverse arguments, which it cannot refute, it is content to leave to make their full impression. The World adopts this rule because it believes no other is honest; because it conceives that its first duty to its readers is to keep them thoroughly informed on every passing subject of importance. In politics, The World will continue to be the bold advocate of a Liberal, Progressive Democracy. The unflinching champion of Freedom, Justice, Order and Constitutional Rights. The inspiration of its politics is Freedom restrained by Justice; or, to speak more strictly, Freedom pure and simple, in the largest collective measure; the office of justice being merely to protect freedom from encroachments; Freedom of the individual citizen in his rights of thought, speech, religion and locomotion; in his Right to choose his own food and drink, in spite of meddlesome temperance laws; in his Right to make any money bargains he thinks proper, in spite of foolish usury laws; in his Right to buy and sell in all markets, domestic and foreign, in spite of unjust protective tariffs; in his Right to representation in the legislative bodies which tax him, in spite of unconstitutional exclusions; Freedom of collective citizens to assemble for discussion of grievances; Freedom of all local communities to manage their local affairs without central interference; Freedom in every section of the country from the arrogant and unconstitutional domination of other sections; this large and comprehensive idea of Freedom sums up the politics of The World, which will never be found wanting to this capital interest of the country and of the human race.
In its accurate Commercial Intelligence and careful, reliable market reports, The World will continue to maintain its present high reputation. A paper published in the commercial metropolis is naturally looked to for authentic information relating to trade, commerce and finance; and this being a feature in which the The World prides itself, it boldly challenges comparison with every journal in the metropolis.
EDITIONS.
The Weekly World, a large quarto sheet, same size as Daily, is now printed throughout in large type, and has the largest circulation of any weekly journal published, save one. Its extraordinary success since its union with the New York Argus has justified the most liberal expenditures, which will make it unrivalled in interest and value to farmers. Published Wednesday.
1. Its Market Reports embrace the New York, Albany, Brighton and Cambridge Live Stock Markets; the New York Country Produce and General Produce Markets; special and valuable Hop Intelligence; a department of Agricultural Reading; all together composing an unrivalled handbook of current information for the Farmer, Live Stock or Produce Dealer, Country Merchant, &c.
2. A page or more reserved for entertaining Fireside Reading for the Family circle, embracing the freshest and best Stories, Poetry, Religious Reading, etc., and a page for the Discussion of all Prominent Topics of general interest, political, agricultural, financial, literary, etc.
3. Its Digest of the News is not, like most weeklies, a mere waste-basket of the Daily; only matters of interest and importance are chosen from the Daily, while the mass of its contents are prepared especially for the Weekly.
In every postoffice district there should be found some active, public spirited Democrat, who will confer a benefit upon us, his neighbors, and the cause, by counseling with his Democratic friends and making a determined effort to form as large a club as possible for the Weekly World.
The Semi-Weekly World is a large quarto sheet, same size as Daily, which, by omitting a great mass of city advertisements from the Daily, contains all its news, correspondence, editorials, commercial and market news, cattle market and provision reports, and a fresh and entertaining miscellany of literature. Published Tuesday and Friday.
